provisional incidents become part of new experience have loose plan in case of emergencies	other details plan one week ahead	plan trip outline first, then details	I have a loose schedule	go out after waking up, about 10 o'clock flexible plan is helpful	use excel to note down my trip plan	loose plan makes me feel time is abundant	day plan is planned the day before based on weather and the get up time	road trip, determine accommodation on the day before enjoy the flexibility of my trip plan style	don't like following a schedule	trip plan tool is unnecessary	take a rest when get tired	remember my trip plan in my mind reschedule left days plan based on open hours	excel is a good tool to make plan	want to know the cafe, bars, clubs nearby	find a place to rest myself	plan attractions to visit per day only note down events with exact date and time	gain advice from the hotel stuff and adjust my plan start the day after waking up	get tired and go back to my hotel earlier	neither loose or tight plan, just go with my pace stay in one attraction longer and add less attractions per day	hot and tired so leave for the next destination earlier	go back to the hotel after dinner go to one or two places per day	time is not enough so forgive the similar place used to be a very detailed trip planner, but too tired	plan what I will do every half hour spend too much time on finding a good destination consider the possible time cost in a place to make the plan make plans according to my own interest refer them but not follow them need the detailed map plan the time frame for each attraction other people's plan may not be reliable print trip plan out	don't like plans designed by other people	should make plans earlier

refer to other people's travel notes	prepare pack list	research in detail and enjoy my trip	plan day schedule is completed since have to consider all open hours	get info about religions, events, attractions, background upon arrival	quant up to take bus for a long time, so I arrive at the hotel late	view the plan before going to the next place book flight, hotel first, then plan attractions	book flights and hotels a month ahead	plan is not detailed, bringing about bad experience	plan 3-4 month ahead, make sure enough time to get visa	miss something in pack list	find the place closed today	unfamiliar with the public transportation, so take a taxi rather than taking bus book event, activities ahead	plan 2-3 weeks ahead	go back to hotel early to be safe	arrange visa, hotel, flights	trust travel notes more than tour guide	transportations - trip outline - day plan one day ahead	line up to buy food is time-consuming consider open hours of attractions	go back about 10 p.m.	check my plan on the night of the previous day	feel confident when travel with own trip plan	flight time	miss the bus because the traffic information from a travel note is wrong	stay in a place indoor since it's rainy trip plan gives me direction	plan 1 month ahead	plan my trip helps me understand my destination	use credit card	miss event because of no knowledge of booking ahead	charge the mobile phone	find a restaurant when it is time to take a lunch write my plan on paper and take a photo	short trip vs. long trip less prepare vs. more prepare	view the plan in the morning	have to spend more time on the road	consider the time spent on the road	have backup attractions	a place is not good as I expected so I leave for the next one earlier change my plan because it's rainy stay in a place for the longer time since it's intriguing
